

From: Gregg Dempsey
To: zehner.warren@epa.gov
Subject: Fw: NM air monitoring stations?
Date: 07/01/2011 08:42 PM

Sent by EPA Wireless E-Mail Services

From: [bryant@veritasnm.com]
Sent: 07/01/2011 06:28 AM MST
To: Gregg Dempsey
Subject: NM air monitoring stations?

Mr. Dempsey,

Hello. I am an Albuquerque-based science journalist, following the air monitoring efforts at the Las Conchas fire.

I understand the NM Environment Department will be posting maps of EPA's mobile air monitoring station locations, on its website? Will these be relatively stable locations, or will they units be moved as winds shift, etc.?

I'd like to report on the air monitoring effort for New Scientist magazine and local media.

Is there a chance I could catch up with you for a half hour at some point, to discuss the types of monitoring equipment EPA is using, the monitoring strategy, etc.?

Many thanks,

Bryant Furlow
Reporter, Veritas New Mexico
First-place award for investigative journalism, NMPA/AP
(505) 304-0822 cell
(866) 662-6958 fax

9470082